Hinkley, Johnson and Meyer were elected for the long term on the city council and George F. Imbach for the short term at the municipal election held yesterday. There were 8966 registered voters and of this number 5060 went to the polls and voted, or about fifty-six and a half percent of those registered.

The election was one of surprises. Dr. Hinkley kept his lead of first place in the contest. Black, who was second high man at the primary, and E. A. Martin, were nosed out of the race. Meyers, who was fifth man in the primary made the jump to second place in the finals yesterday. He made a gain of 1120 votes. Walter Johnson, who was third man at the primary held his position when the votes were finally counted. (Continued on Page 8)

BIDS OPENED FOR PAVING OF TENTH

The last step of the city of Richmond in carrying out its agreement with the Ford Motor company, took place at the meeting of the council last evening, when it opened bids for the improvement of Tenth street, south to the Ford property.

After the opening the bids were referred to the city attorney and city engineer for one week.

The bidders were the Central Construction company, Hoteling company, Oakland Paving company and California Construction company.

While the bids have not been computed, it is believed the California Construction company is the lowest, and will likely be awarded the contract next Monday night.

The improvement calls for a broken rock cushion of four inches, eight inches of cement concrete, and a two inch wearing surface of asphalt concrete.

Voters Thanked

To the voters of Richmond: I am very proud at the result of the election held yesterday. You elected me to retain the position I have occupied for the last two years. At the primary my friends put me in first place, and in the final yesterday, they kept me in the same position.

My heartfelt thanks go out to the many workers in all parts of the city, who made such a result possible. The vote I received demonstrates that the people of the city approve of the policy I have pursued as a member of the council. This is very gratifying to me. Again I thank you.

AMOS B. HINKLEY

To the voters of Richmond: Naturally I feel very proud of the very large vote which I received yesterday, which elected me as a member of the council. It was not through my efforts that the result was accomplished, but as a result of the untiring efforts of many friends.

I wish to extend my personal thanks to each and every one who voted for me, and assure you that you will never have cause to regret your vote. I will go on the council with no proud look made, and my sole efforts will be devoted to the advancement of the city which is my home.

GEORGE F. IMBACH

To the voters of Richmond: Allow me through the columns of this newspaper to extend my sincere thanks for your votes which will place me as a member of your city council. Jumping from fifth place in the primary election the results in the final election came from the devoted work of unselfish friends, who had faith in me. The vote that I received was most flattering, and I am proud that 2507 voters of Richmond placed their confidence in me.

ELMER A. MARTIN

Richmond's growth, and seeing that city business is handled in a business like manner, will be my aim.

RUSSELL J. MEYER

To the voters of Richmond: Permit me to thank each and every one of the 2431 voters who went to the polls yesterday and cast their ballot for me, electing me as a member of the council. I can assure you that the confidence you have placed in me will never be mis-used.

I entered the campaign as an independent candidate. I made my fight as such, and I will assume my duties without any obligations that will be embarrassing to me.

To the many friends who did yeoman work in my behalf, it is due to the result of the campaign.

WALTER J. JOHNSON

To the voters of Richmond: I wish to thank my many friends for their work at the election yesterday. Although I was not successful, still the vote I received was most flattering, and I am very proud of it.

As I stood second at the primary, it is possible that over confidence on the part of my supporters had something to do with the final result yesterday.

GEORGE F. BLACK

To the voters of Richmond: While unsuccessful in the election yesterday, still the large number of votes polled for me, show that I have many friends in Richmond, who were interested in my behalf.

To them I desire to extend my thanks just as profusely as if I were elected. It was through their efforts that the vote I received was made possible.

Richmond is my home and I will be just as much interested in the future growth of this city, as though I were a member of the governing body.

WIFE SEES HUSBAND FALL

A fishing trip to Richmond municipal wharf No. 1 yesterday ended in the death of J. H. Sayers, 1386 Methuen street, Berkeley.

Sayers suddenly arose from his seat on the railroad track at the wharf and toppled into the bay, police were told. He sank beneath the water a few seconds later.

Coroner Aubrey Wilson reported last night that authorities believe Sayers suffered from a heart attack and was dead before he hit the water. The body had not been recovered at a late hour last night.

Sayers was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Blanche Sayers and his son-in-law, Alvin Blatt, 2820 Adeline street, Berkeley.

Blatt reported to the police that the accident occurred so suddenly that he was unable to go to the assistance of his father-in-law. The waters of the bay, lashed by a heavy wind and a swift tide, made rescue almost suicidal, police reported.

Belief that Sayers was dead before he reached the water was strengthened when Mrs. Sayers reported that her husband had been ill for several months and had complained of heart pains.

A police squad, led by Chief of Police Daniel Cox were called to the scene and grappling hooks were immediately placed into use in an effort to recover the body.

Police and coroner's officers reported last night that they believe the body will not be recovered for several days.

Hospital Permit To Be Issued Today

City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley is expected to issue a building permit today for the construction of Richmond's new hospital on Twenty-third street. The plans are in his office where they have been checked and a few minor alterations made to conform with the local building laws.

The permit will call for a three story concrete building to be constructed at a cost of $75,000. Wallace Shelnor is the builder and has had a crew of workers on the job for several weeks. Three cottages which occupied the site have been moved. Excavation for the foundation will be completed today and the pouring of concrete will start tomorrow.

When completed the structure will be one of the most modern in the bay region. The first floor will be devoted to an emergency operating room, X-ray room and the like. The second floor will contain a men's ward and a number of private rooms. On the third floor will be a women's ward, maternity wards and the operating room.

Early completion of the structure is predicted by those in charge of the work. W. B. Elley is the engineer and N. W. Sexton the architect of the structure.

They sat together in seats reserved for the family and friends of the vice president in the senate gallery for more than 10 minutes, chatting amiably and smiling upon each other like long lost sisters, while the multitude gathered to hear the farm debate.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

We have heard a great deal of discussion of late years concerning the Monroe doctrine, and this great principle, enumerated by one of our early presidents, has come in for its share of criticism on the part of our pinks and internationalists who have claimed that Uncle Sam was using this time honored doctrine as a cloak for imperialistic activities in South and Central America.

Nothing could be further from the truth. In the first place the activities of the United States in Latin America have not been imperialistic. This is proved by the fact that we have never acquired a foot of territory in that region for the United States. There has never been a time since the close of the Civil War when we could not have enriched ourselves territorially by marching in and taking possession. There have been excuses in abundance in Central America and in Mexico. But our policy has always been not for the acquirement of new possessions but for the preservation of peace and the rights of individuals and their property in the troubled areas.

In the second place the Monroe Doctrine has not been the basis for our interventions in Latin America. We have landed marines in China, too, and in other distant parts of the world for the preservation of American lives and property and we have done this not under the Monroe doctrine but under the moral right which every nation possesses to defend its own, and surely a nation which will not look after its own people in time of trouble is not worthy of the name.

A short time ago Reuben J. Clark, Undersecretary of State in an exhaustive memorandum redefined the Monroe doctrine and in so doing performed a real service in clearing away some of the misinformation which has resulted in unjust criticism of the doctrine; in commenting on this the Boston Transcript says:

In its essence and in fact, in its entirety, the doctrine as enunciated in 1823 comprehended only two main features: Opposition to European colonization and to the extension of European political systems to this continent, and it embraced also a pledge of non-interference with the existing colonies of European nations its application was wholly to Europe, and it was designed equally to protect the United States and the Latin American countries, as at least one of them has attested gratefully with a monument.

"The Clark memorandum makes clear, from original historical sources, what legitimate part of the Monroe Doctrine has played in our international relations, and what is now more important, some of the distortion of it and the flagrant misrepresentations by some of its critics from which it and American policy alike have suffered in repute."

Our internationalists and pinks will doubtless continue to oppose American policy in Latin America will continue to re-echo the European charge that we are imperialistic in our dealings with the nations to the south of us.

As a matter of fact, of course, Uncle Sam's "imperialism" exists only in the crafty minds of European propagandists and their American dupes.

A joshful judge in Tucson wired the manager of the Los Angeles Biltmore that he had 14 Mexican generals on hand—good as new, used only two months—and suggested turning them over to the hostelry as atmosphere to stand around the lobbies. But a canny news service detected the odor of a rodent, and the story reached daylight only in one Los Angeles publication.

President Hoover has decided that he doesn't want the Mayflower and we do suppose that cruising on a steam yacht would seem a little tame after spending a few weeks on a battleship.

SCHOOLS FOR PARENTS ASKED BY DR. BOYER

Night schools for parents, verification of facts that should be filled with the clerk with the application for marriage license and a governmental survey of abnormality were among the things advocated by Dr. Thomas Boyer, county probation officer, in his address "Us Abnormals," given before members of Richmond club yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Boyer opened by describing the machine age, with its one car to every five persons in the United States, through similar statistics in other countries to the one car for every 5000 in China. He told that the public drinks a million dollars worth of coffee and eats 36 million pieces of pie every 24 hours; that the purchase of silk stockings has jumped from 12 to 14 million dollars and that petticoats and corsets have vanished. He sketched the visit of the proverbial visitor from Mars, who when asked what he found most in the world would eliminate the above mentioned and answered with one word "crime." The city of St. Louis, Dr. Boyer stated, outdistances 24 of Great Britain in murder and burglaries and that 10 billions of dollars are spent to fight crime, which is $100 per person.

The speaker believes that men are not born alike and equal, but are born inherently different. He said: "A man may be perfectly normal whether he likes his beefsteak smothered in onions or whether he eschews all meat; he is normal if he says 'I don't like it' for 'I did it.' But he is not normal unless he has two hands, feet, eyes, ears, nose and a properly functioning brain. The abnormal human being is a variation, he has been short-circuited, he has been jangled up, something is lacking."

Dr. Boyer told of divisions in normality and abnormality and stated there is the super-normal and the sub-normal, both coming within the abnormal division, and both containing problem people.

Dr. Boyer said: "We have an increasing abnormality that is amazing. The pace we are living is depleting and breaking down faster than we can build. There are 17,000 defectives in the state institution; in Sonoma and 11,000 have made application who have had to be turned down. Prob'ns are increasing faster than they can be solved. We are becoming a generation, a country of abnormality."

A special memorial program is planned for next Monday. Delegates to the recent state convention will make their reports at that time.

On Wednesday, the concluding program of the club year will be held at the clubhouse, in the form of a garden party. Invitations are being issued to members for their guests.

PRINCIPALS IN SOCIAL WAR MEET

After showing everyone they are not army with each other, at least not very army—just because each happens to think he should have social precedence over the other, the two ladies went their separate ways without indication that the war had been ended.

Armistice Seen

There was wide difference of opinion over the significance of the meeting. Some social war correspondents and impartial observers contended it was a brief armistice in the tea and dinner war while others held it was another battle. Among those who thought the war was over, the latter school, there was disagreement as to who won.

Whatever else it may have been, the encounter was accidental. Mrs. Gann, accompanied by former Mayor Charles J. McGaw of Omaha, Neb., boarded an elevator in the basement of the capitol to take her to the gallery floor. Of the street floor, Mrs. Longworth entered the same car, also headed for the gallery.

Set Together

Mrs. Gann immediately invited Mrs. Longworth to share the vice president's row in the gallery. Mrs. Longworth accepted, explaining to friends later that she "couldn't very well get out of it."

So the women were ushered with their men escort into the second row of the gallery.

Senator Brookhart, Rep. J. who does not mix in Washington society and boasts that he has never worn a dress suit, was speaking at the time. But he soon learned that his farm relief remarks could not compete with the social attraction.

All eyes were on Mrs. Gann and Mrs. Longworth. There was a flurry of excitement in the press gallery. Senators nudged each other and glanced furtively at the amazing spectacle in the gallery. The two women were obviously conscious of the attention they were attracting. Mrs. Gann flushed and Mrs. Longworth was even more vivacious than usual.

"Stares Them Down"

Presently Mrs. Longworth trained her longmette on the galleries in a futile effort to stare down her audience. She soon gave it up and excused herself when a gallery attendant brought her a message clamoring over Mrs. Gann to get out.

Will Rogers, the cowboy comedian, who witnessed the engagement from a gallery across the chamber, later joined Mrs. Longworth in the corridor and talked with her for several minutes. Then he entered the senatorial gallery and sat for a time with Mrs. Gann.

"Getting the dope on the war was fixing things up," Rogers explained. "Had to have some new gags. I'd have to close down my show if it wasn't for this so-

Dinner War

If the meeting between the two women was a social war engagement, the honors appear to have been divided. Mrs. Gann maneuvered Mrs. Longworth into the position of being her guest in the gallery although Mrs. Longworth, as the daughter of a former president, has a seat of her own. On the other hand, Mrs. Longworth left first, thereby asserting, in a measure, her right to precede Mrs. Gann.

The Longworth-Gann controversy broke out two weeks ago when both women are understood to have been invited to a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meyer. According to the story, Mrs. Longworth refused to attend when she learned Mrs. Gann was to take precedence over her in the seating arrangement.

Mrs. Gann sent regrets when she learned of Mrs. Longworth's attitude. Later Longworth herself is said to have told friends she believed the speaker, as the ranking representative of the legislative branch of the government, should outrank everyone but the president.

BABY KILLED AS CAR CRASHES

CROCKETT, May 13.—Robert Nelson, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Nelson of Crockett, was killed in an automobile accident Saturday night when the automobile in which he was riding with his mother and a group of children overturned and rolled down an embankment.

Members of the party, all of whom received minor injuries are Barbara Nelson, 5, scalp lacerations; Lorraine Nelson, 3, cuts and bruises; Franklin Cochran, 10, crushed arm; Robert Cochran, 8, head wounds; Jane Cochran, 6, cuts and lacerations. Mrs. J. G. Cochran escaped uninjured.

The automobile landed more than 100 feet from the highway. Mrs. Cochran, driver of the car, attributed the mishap to failure of brakes to work when the car was rounding a turn. She stated to authorities that the front wheels slipped over the embankment just as she had regained control of the automobile. All would probably have been killed if the machine had not struck a tree, as a 200 foot drop is just below the tree.

Funeral services for the child will be held tomorrow morning from the Brunner-Connelly chapel with interment in the Alhambra cemetery.

HIDDEN LIFE OF TONGS SHOWN IN FILM

This Chinatown is all a fake; nothing ever happens here. Slighters, who penetrate the Chinese underworlds of the great cities of the United States on observation bases see little beyond the surface except the regular staged and paid for performances of the strange inhabitants. Far underneath the pine surface of the great maze of settling life which from time to time breaks loose to wreck its terror and destruction in the open. It is this underworld, however, that Samuel Ornitz, famous author and authority on Chinese, has revealed in his story "Tong War" from which Paramount has made the gripping drama of "Chinatown Nights." "Chinatown Nights" which will be the feature of the Fox-California theater program for two days, starting today, is the story of a white leader of a powerful Chinese tong who captures the love of a white society woman and drags her with him down into the depths, feeling her so reduced through love of him, he feels his love for her and lifts her up again.

William Wellman, director of the famous picture, "Wings" and this gripping picture which, how going on behind the inscrutable mask of Chinatown, Florence V. and Wallace Berry head a distinguished cast and the settings are excellent replicas of noted places in the history of American tong wars.

4¢ worth of electricity cooks the dinner for 4 people

How the electric range improves cooking! Tender, juicy broiled roasts with all flavor sealed in. Steaks broiled without smoking. Cakes fine in texture. Pies with delicious, flaky undercrusts. Such cooking you can do with less effort electrically, because the electric range is fully automatic.
The new porcelain enameled electric ranges are speedy. Biscuits, for example, are put into cold oven. They are done perfectly in about 11 minutes.

ABOUT 1c per person, less than the price of the coffee itself—that's the AVERAGE cost of cooking a family's meal with an electric range. Perhaps you never believed it to be so economical.

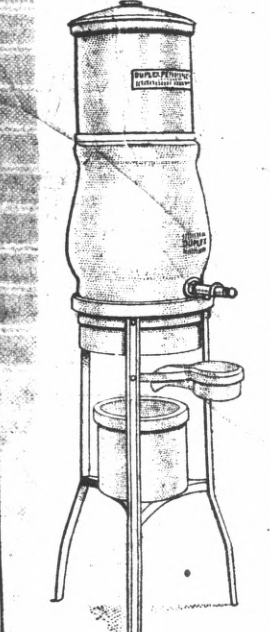

But remember, the electric rates were cut about a year ago. And today the price of electricity is below the price of electricity in the year 1914, although the cost of other things rose skyward as you well know.

What is the monthly cost?
A survey among our customers' accounts shows that the AVERAGE sum paid by our customers for cooking electrically, including lighting and small appliances, is but $5.76 per month! An amazingly low price for modern comfort, cleanliness and perfect baking.

Come in to our office or a dealer's store and see these modern electric ranges that are so reasonable to operate.

HOOVER PLANS TARIFF BILL CHANGES

WASHINGTON, May 13.—UP—President Hoover is dissatisfied with the House tariff bill, regarding the agricultural rate advance, and has taken the initiative, in a quiet way to mould the measure more to what he regards as the party pledges.

His plan of action is to have the House give the revolting agricultural bloc further rate increases, and make these effective by having the senate pare down some of the increases granted to industry, which naturally are reflected in the farmer's cost of living. These views have been transmitted to party leaders at the capitol.

His plan is designed to cause less confusion than if the president were to attempt openly at stage to interfere with legislation in the House. Republican leaders already have decided to grant at least some of the demands of the agricultural bloc. These will be put forward as committee amendments and thus will not open the tariff to general rewriting in the House. If the president attempted to get leaders to re-write some of the industrial schedules, a great clamor would arise. This will be left to the Senate.

Leaders To Confer
Republican members of the Ways and Means committee which drafted the tariff bill will begin Tuesday a series of conferences, expected to last two or three days, with farm leaders who are seeking further increases.

Meanwhile, the House continued debate on the controversial measure today, with demands for a tariff on potatoes and for reduction in the proposed sugar tariff of three cents.

The specific extent of the president's dissatisfaction with the farm bill was not disclosed. There were reports that he thought the proposed three cent sugar rate too high, and that he opposed increased rates on brick, cement and shingles which the farmer must buy, but there was no confirmation of these reports at the White House.

President Hoover called Congress in extra session for farm relief and limited revision of the tariff to aid the farmer and to aid some few industries. Agriculture was the principal field for aid. He has seen a tariff bill reported that went far beyond these qualifications, with increases granted to industries all along the line, and with agriculture given far less attention than farm members had expected.

Sugar Rate Scored
He has heard charges that this measure does not make agriculture equal with industry, because it boosts industry up still a few more notches. He has come to realize also, that the whole purpose of the extra session might be defeated. Rumors of revolt on both farm relief and tariff preaged a possible collision between Democrats and dissatisfied Western Republicans that would mean no end of trouble.

Pointing out that western Republicans were seeking their ends peaceably, if possible, Rep. Dickinson, Repn. Iowa, leader of the House Farm bloc said today: "Fifty votes can turn the House upside down."

The proposed three cent sugar tariff was attacked in the House today by Rep. Fear, Repn., who declared it would increase the consumer's sugar bill $240,000,000, and advanced the retail rate from five to seven cents a pound. Fear recommended the rate be left as it is, with a limitation upon duty-free imports from the Philippines.

DEBT PARLEY NEARS FINISH

PARIS, May 13.—UP—The next two days are expected to be critical ones for the reparations experts conference, which is believed near the end of its work.

Sir Josiah Stamp, head of the sub committee drawing up the committee's final report, virtually has completed a draft including the tentative reservations of the German delegation. Stamp is expected, however, to talk the situation over with delegates of the creditor powers, especially France and Belgium, before giving out his report.

If France and Belgium agree to terms of the compromise, the report presumably will reveal success of the experts in reaching an agreement on reparations that Germany must pay the Allies.

It was asserted tonight that the question of repatriation of the reparations surplus, to which British delegates have objected, would not be included in the report. This question would be left to the various governments for adjustment, it was said.

Slayer Of Father Wants Club Post

SEATTLE, May 13.—UP—Although held in jail on a charge of killing his step-father, Leo Axtell, 17, said today he had a "plan" to escape punishment and still hoped he could be elected president of the boy's club at Broadway high school next year.

"I only meant to shoot him in the arm," the youth said when questioned concerning the slaying of Wade Axtell, 45, contractor.

Young Axtell assertedly resented his stepfather's action in endeavoring to send him to a school of correction after he became involved in theft charges. The boy fired a single shot from a rifle as the elder Axtell arrived home. Leo then fled, took the rifle apart, threw it in a vacant lot and later showed detectives where the pieces were.

Edward G. Foley and Roxie George, both of Fresno, became bride and groom while Frank J. Klassen, of Parlier and Florence Lindahl, of Kingsburg were being married. The ceremonies were performed by Judge George Bartlett.

Immediately after the wedding the two couples and four friends who had accompanied them left in their chartered airplane for the Oakland airport.

RAINS, FLOODS DAMAGE CORN

TOPEKA, May 13.—UP—Farmers of the southwest today surveyed with gloom the outlook for their corn crop while their lands lay soggy under heavy rains and streams poured flood waters over carefully cultivated acres.

The farms have been ploughed twice in many sections and all ready planting season for corn is a month past. Agricultural observers said the new setback would require development of corn crops in the shortest time since 1889.

Wheat, too, has suffered from bleaching and moisture in other sections. In need of warmth and sunshine, the fields were overcast by rain clouds.

Flood crests passed downward into the region of southeastern Kansas, western Missouri and northeastern Oklahoma today with a general lessening of the overflow menace which has returned repeatedly throughout the spring.

Mrs. Tunney To Undergo Second Operation Soon

GREENWICH, Conn., May 13.—UP—Mrs. J. J. Tunney, wife of the former heavyweight boxing champion, plans to undergo another operation within a few weeks either in Vienna or Berlin, following which the honey-moons Tunneys intend to continue their European travels for at least another year, according to a cablegram received here today from Mrs. Tunney's mother, Mrs. George Lauder.

The message was sent by Mrs. Lauder from Pola, Italy, in order to relieve the apprehension of her 18 year old son, George, a student in the exclusive Brunswick preparatory school here as to his sister's condition.

Young Lauder was assured by his mother that "Polly's illness" in its present stage was not serious, he told the United Press tonight.

The warrant for Fitch's arrest was sworn to by Mrs. Bonnie Consor, of Richmond.

REBEL PUPILS RETURN TO CLASSES

DES MOINES, Ia., May 13.—UP—At peace temporarily after the week-end turmoil which was climaxed by a student mob storming across the campus, hurling bricks and bad eggs Saturday, under-graduates of Des Moines university marched triumphantly back to classrooms today assured that their semester's credits will be protected.

The student body cheered enthusiastically when it was learned that a district court judge had granted an injunction restraining the board of trustees from closing the school, a Baptist institution, as had been ordered by Dr. T. T. Shields, director of the board.

The director's order followed the campus riot in which 200 students broke up a meeting of the board in the administration building when it was announced that the resignation of President H. C. Wayman and the entire faculty had been demanded.

Spies Denied
A two-year controversy between the fundamentalists and modernists, charged that Dr. Shields, who came here two years ago from Toronto and employed Canadian "spies" among students, and accusations of a personal nature, brought about the disintegration between the board, faculty and students.

The student mob, supporting President Wayman and the faculty, became incensed at the board's action and stormed the administration building, breaking windows and finally pushed their way into the room where the meeting was held. None of the board members was harmed and police arrived to escort the trustees to safety.

Charges of a secret romance between Dr. Shields and Miss Edith Rebmam, secretary of the board, were found by the trustees to be "untrue" and a vote of confidence was given the two officers.

Orders Closing
Dr. Shields was in Toronto today. Under protection of a police escort, he departed on a train Saturday night, after issuing the closing order as his last gesture of defiance to the faculty and students who have opposed his direction of the school.

Sunday, bringing prayer in the chapel, cooled the heat of the students and they saw in Dr. Shields' order the possibility that they would lose credit for their semester's work at the school.

The older and more conservative students, with the sanction of President Wayman, held a meeting and decided to file an injunction petition in district court.

Hearing Not Set
District Judge Shankland, who issued the restraining order, did not set a definite date for a future hearing of the controversy. His order specified the understanding that a hearing would be granted later if either party in the district requested it.

Under the order, President Wayman, Miss Rebmam and the board of trustees are instructed to keep the university open until the end of the scheduled school year and to issue diplomas and credits in the usual manner.

Dr. Shields, at his Toronto home today, indicated he would present the entire case before the Buffalo meeting.

He previously denied that he and Miss Rebmam had brought four students from Canada.

Peyton Gardner, Richmond's sole survivor of the Civil War, is at home. Gardner declared yesterday that he did not feel able to attend the sixty-second annual encampment of the G. A. BRITISH YACHT FANS AWAIT U. S. VISIT

LONDON, May 13.—UP.—The visit of an American racing yacht of big tonnage is eagerly hoped for by British enthusiasts, according to Major B. Hockstall-Smith, secretary of the Yacht Racing association.

Yacht racing in England, during the last eight years, has revived to its pre-war popularity, mainly due to the interest which King George has taken in it.

The king had his famous cutter Britannia refitted and renovated some years ago, and almost invariably takes part in one or more of the races during Cowes week, off the Isle of Wight.

It is extremely improbable, however, that he will participate this year, on account of his recent illness, from which he will take many months fully to recover. Nevertheless, yacht racing fans are expecting a record season, especially if a large American yacht, of the Britannia class, is to compete.

In this class, such a vessel would take part in races with such British yachts as the Britannia, Lulworth, Shamrock, Cambria, and Canadian, all single-masted vessels, and two racing schooners, Westward and Elena. The aggregate tonnage of the nine vessels is about 1,200 tons and to man them in a race about 220 sailors are employed.

There have been many Anglo-American contests in the smaller six-meter class. Even now a Scottish yachtsman, Frank Robertson, is building an eight meter yacht with which he will race in America next fall. But what British yachting circles want to see this year is a yacht of the Britannia class, as it is sometimes known.

PIE TRAYNOR
PITTSBURGH'S DOUGHERTY CAPTAIN IS CARRYING ON IN SPIRIT OF INJURIES TO GIVE THE PIRATES A SHOT AT THE PENNANT
—STOKES ALLEN—

"Pie" Traynor is Pittsburgh's big question mark. If he can stay at his post then the club has a chance to come through for the pennant. If he cannot, then that's something else again. Traynor suffered an injury while running the bases in a game with Philadelphia last fall and thought the winter's rest would be the only necessary medicine. But the spring training had not gone far before he realized that such was not the case. Doctors after a thorough examination of the injured leg advised a long rest in bed. This did not in the least appeal to the fighting captain and he decided to stay in the game as long as possible and take the rest afterwards.

OUTBOARD BOAT RACING GAINS IN FAVOR

LONDON, May 13.—UP.—A boom in the new sport of outboard motor boat racing is anticipated by enthusiasts for this summer.

Until recently outboard racing formed a section of the British motor boat club, but the pastime, which first became popular in London last summer, grew so rapidly that it was decided to form the British Outboard racing club, an entirely separate organization, with headquarters at the Welsh Harp lake, Hendon.

The sport provides enough thrills to satisfy even "Miss 1929" whose sex predominates in adherents to it. As the flat-bottomed wooden shells skim over the water, to the accompaniment of a roaring roar from the engines attached to the sterns, their roses rise high above the surface, and turns around the mark buoys are accomplished in terrifying "skids."

Duckings are frequent for the pilots, but as they wear lifebelts the tipping over of a boat is not the cause for real apprehension. Outboard racing was given a big boost when the Duchess of York witnessed races on the Welsh Harp lake last July, and in October the race on the Thames from Westminster to Kew attracted big crowds.

The Thames, however, is not a suitable racecourse, since the driftwood which floats on its surface is liable to stove in its hulls at great speed.

One reason that has contributed to the popularity of the sport is that it is within the means of a person of moderate income.

A good serviceable boat can be purchased for from $285 to $500 and running costs are not high.

Many enthusiasts keep their boats in the garages at their homes, and take them to "meetings" either on a trailer attached to an automobile or on the roof of a sedan car.

E. P. Gurnard, secretary of the new club, expects to have a thousand members by this summer.

OAKS TO MEET SACRAMENTO TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—UP.—Seven teams of the Pacific Coast league will start the second quarter of the season Tuesday with one primary thought—to stop the sensational winning streak of the first place San Francisco Missions.

The Missions won two out of three games played in the first quarter of the season, which ended Sunday. They were victorious in six out of seven series and have now 11 straight games to be eight full games ahead of Oakland and Los Angeles in the percentage column.

In addition to this advantage they came home today to play three series in their own park. They will meet Hollywood this week, then Oakland and Sacramento.

Hollywood dropped six out of seven games to Oakland last week while the Angels were beating Portland by the bare margin of one game, so the Oaks and Angels are tied for second place and the San Francisco Seals are two games behind them.

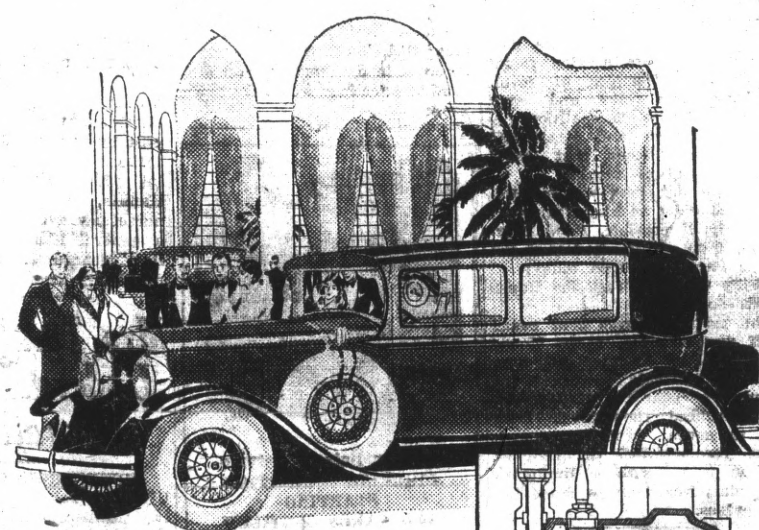

The Seals will invade Los Angeles this week. Oakland will play against Sacramento's Senators, who lost seven straight to the Missions last week, and Portland will meet Seattle in the Puget Sound city.

STUDEBAKER...holder of world recordsmaker of transportation history —guard its fine motor from harmful carbon-forming oils!

This particular body style, the Commander eight brougham, caught the artist's eye as he sketched a display of the new Studebaker models

TODAY, car makers give us wonderful motors with enormous capacity for endurance, for speed. Not mere size; many of the "biggest" motors have disappeared. Rather it is the strength, the efficiency built into them. A change in design which enabled Studebakers, for example, to shatter existing records for time and distance.

This change in motor design, almost universal now, calls for a new motor oil standard—an oil that forms no hard carbon. Such oils are scarce; many otherwise good lubricants are notorious carbon-formers. They could be used perhaps in the big, roomy motors of a few years ago, but today, with pistons that come almost to the cylinder head, there's simply no room for carbon.

There is an oil, however, that forms 2/3 to 4/5 less carbon than even the costliest oils! The little it does form is only soft soot that blows easily away.

It both lubricates and protects fine motors. It eliminates the gritty carbon chips that would grind endlessly through tight pistons and bearings; prevents carbon knocks, valve fouling and burning.

It is Shell Motor Oil. Refined by a new high-vacuum process, this remarkable low-carbon oil is hailed by lubrication experts as a great advance. Full bodied, resistant to heat—Shell Motor Oil is a great new lubricant with the added advantage of less carbon.

Even the costliest oils form more carbon. A sample of this oil, when burned, left more than three times as much as Shell Motor Oil

An equal sample of Shell Motor Oil left only this small fraction of carbon—and it is soft carbon, not the hard, gritty, damaging kind

Here is a section of the efficient 80 h.p. eight cylinder Studebaker Commander motor. No room in it for the handful of coke-carbon which old-style oils would soon leave. To get the most out of any modern motor you need an oil that forms no hard carbon

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that burns cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by thinning with "wet" gasoline

Police Judge J. F. Plank reported fines collected during April for motor vehicle violations of $1032.50 and for violation of city ordinances $749.

Building Inspector Herbert E. Wood reported building permits issued during April with a valuation of $28,180.

Steps to clean up San Pablo Avenue will probably be taken by the council next Monday night when an ordinance will be presented regulating the junk yards on the avenue.

In order to regulate the hours of dancing in the eating houses in El Cerrito the council will receive applications stating the hours during which they wish to have dancing, next Monday night.

Complaint by Charles Kaufman that Councilman Charles Zimmerman was neglecting his duty and holding up the business of the city by missing three successive meetings of the council was passed over by the council when Mayor Ernest O'Brien replied that he did not know why Zimmerman was not in attendance but that he probably had some good reason.

Banker's Family Screen In Holdup

GILMORE CITY, Ia., May 13.—(U.P.)—A banker's family was forced to act as a screen in the daring robbery of the Gilmore City Exchange bank today after being terrorized in their home through the night by a bandit trio.

The bandits, one of whom was a woman, forced their way into the house of former State Senator H. S. Van Alstine late Sunday night. Van Alstine is an official of the Exchange bank.

They bound Van Alstine and his wife; their son, Francis, and their daughter, Mrs. M. Holland of Chicago. In the morning, while the woman member of the trio guarded Mrs. Van Alstine and the younger children, the other members of the family were herded in an automobile and driven to the bank.

Using the Van Alstine group as a screen, the two men at third who drove the automobile lined up four bank employees. One of the bandits forced Van Alstine to open the vault and helped himself to $5,000 in cash.

The three men then dashed out to their car, returning to the Van Alstine home, where they picked up their woman accomplice, and drove eastward out of the city.

Van Alstine told police the details of the daring robbery today while posses searched the countryside.

Four persons narrowly escaped death or serious injury Sunday night when two automobiles were hit by Santa Fe engines at Richmond crossings.

R. R. Arnold, his wife and son Clarence, all of 6705 Felth avenue, Oakland, leaped to safety a few seconds before their stalled car was hit by a Santa Fe passenger engine at the Standard avenue crossing. The Arnolds were enroute home from a fishing trip in Mendocino county. Their machine was demolished by the crash.

A new sedan, owned and being driven by C. E. Brown, 443 Standard avenue, was completely wrecked when it was struck by an Oakland bound Santa Fe engine at the Garrard avenue "Y" crossing a few minutes after the Arnold crash. Brown reported that he did not see the train until it was too late and he attempted to beat it to the crossing. He leaped to safety a few seconds before the car was struck and thrown across the street onto the street car tracks. Street car traffic was blocked for more than an hour. Brown escaped without injury.

A great deal of single shooting was done in all parts of the city, and in many cases the voter went into the booth and marked his ballot for but two candidates.

The newly elected councilmen will take their posts on July 1.

CITY COUNCIL BACKS S. P. IN FIGHT

Hitting duplication of rail facilities, the Richmond city council last night endorsed the position of the Southern Pacific railroad fight against the proposed extension of the Great Northern-Western Pacific between Klamath Falls and Keddle.

Sherman Burke, a Southern Pacific attorney, attended the council session and explained the position of his company in the fight.

After listening to the explanation, the members of the council decided to back the Southern Pacific lines in its fight.

The decision of the council scores the Great Northern-Western Pacific proposed line as an unnecessary capital investment which serves only to duplicate the existing facilities of the Southern Pacific in the Klamath basin in Oregon.

Burke told the council that the proposed line would serve a vast territory that is now being served by the Southern Pacific company, which had made vast expenditures aggregating more than a million of dollars to develop the territory.

Burke stated that other civic organizations, including the Richmond, Santa Barbara and Riverside chambers of commerce; the Greater Oakland Improvement club, the Salida Community Welfare association, the Fernley, Nev. Produce Growers' association, the City Commission of Ogden, the Palmdale chamber of commerce and the Alturas chamber of commerce have adopted resolutions backing the Southern Pacific in its fight.

STATE ASKING PHONE RATE PROBE

SACRAMENTO, May 13.—UP—Congress was asked today by both houses of the state legislature to investigate the organization and operation of telephone companies throughout the United States.

Passage of the resolution by the Assembly, following action taken by the Senate last week, ended a long fight among the lawmakers on this subject. A previous resolution, originating in the Assembly, was defeated because certain legislators objected to mention of Senator Hiram Johnson's name in the document.

Contending that the resolution was only a political move by friends of the senator from California, the measure was defeated. Senator J. M. Immah, Sacramento introduced the resolution which passed today and which contains no allusion to the senator.

Congress will probe the whole structure of the telephone company organization in the country. Rates are particularly mentioned as deserving of a thorough investigation.

The constitutional amendment calling for a $30,000,000 bond issue to construct a salt water barrier on Carquinez straits and a flood control project on the Santa Ana river was not taken up by the assembly today. It has already passed the senate.

4 Escape Death In Train-Auto Crashes

Four persons narrowly escaped death or serious injury Sunday night when two automobiles were hit by Santa Fe engines at Richmond crossings.

R. R. Arnold, his wife and son Clarence, all of 6705 Felth avenue, Oakland, leaped to safety a few seconds before their stalled car was hit by a Santa Fe passenger engine at the Standard avenue crossing. The Arnolds were enroute home from a fishing trip in Mendocino county. Their machine was demolished by the crash.

A new sedan, owned and being driven by C. E. Brown, 443 Standard avenue, was completely wrecked when it was struck by an Oakland bound Santa Fe engine at the Garrard avenue "Y" crossing a few minutes after the Arnold crash. Brown reported that he did not see the train until it was too late and he attempted to beat it to the crossing. He leaped to safety a few seconds before the car was struck and thrown across the street onto the street car tracks. Street car traffic was blocked for more than an hour. Brown escaped without injury.

A great deal of single shooting was done in all parts of the city, and in many cases the voter went into the booth and marked his ballot for but two candidates.

The newly elected councilmen will take their posts on July 1.
